

Inna is a seasoned banker with over 25y of banking experience in the City of London. She has been with Deutsche Bank London for over 14 years and has held various position in the Investment and Corporate divisions of Deutsche Bank. Inna's current area of responsibility covers regional responsibility for a number of countries in the EMEA region as well as the global sector coverage for Metals and Mining sector.